Tulane's activity as a university affiliate to the Keep Louisiana Beautiful. The affiliate leads clean up events, litter surveys, and waste audits to raise awareness and develop programming to reduce litter. The university affiliate program is supported by a research grant from the Environmental Protection Agency to reduce the accumulation of plastics in the Gulf of Mexico and regional waterways. Data collected from this litter cleanup will inform affiliate litter and waste reduction plans. The 2022 Litter Sweep engaged over 240 students and collected 70 bags of trash and recycling. Tulane Baseball and Military Flyover

On Saturday, April 15th, Tulane University will host a United States Marine Corps Reserves helicopter display as part of a flyover scheduled during the Green Wave vs Wichita State baseball game that evening at Greer Field at Turchin Stadium. The helicopter display will feature an AH-1 Super Cobra helicopter for observation by students and other interested members of the Tulane community. The flyover is planned to start at 5:59 p.m. followed by first pitch at 6:00 p.m. There will be no live weapons or ammunition on this aircraft. This helicopter display will be supported by the Tulane University Police Department, Tulane University ROTC, and the U.S. Marine Light Attack Helicopter Squadron 773, stationed at the Naval Air Station Joint Reserve Base New Orleans.

Crawfest, April 22 11:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Crawfest, the student-run music, food, and arts festival, will return to Tulane University Saturday, April 22nd. The festival will take place on the Berger Family Lawn from 11:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Non-student affiliates and neighbors are welcome and may purchase tickets here.

Greeningnola.com Off Campus Move-Out

Greeningnola.com returns with a volunteer-led program providing pick-ups of household items, excluding furniture, in university neighborhoods for donation the weekends of May 19th-21st and May 26th-29th. Greeningnola.com is a great resource for both student tenants and their landlords. The site has thoughtful suggestions and resources for reselling and donating items in our area.

Online Concern Report Form

Tulane has a centralized online report form for complaints and concerns which is the primary, and preferred, method for submitting any report of concern about a student and his or her behavior, including but not limited to conduct that may violate the Code of Student Conduct. This system allows for efficient routing of concerns to the appropriate office, as well as tracking follow-through on those concerns. Neighbors are welcome to file complaints or concerns using the online system and should select “Neighborhood Relations Concern” under the “Type of Concern.”
